

Jerome V. Tolbert, MD PhD
317 East 17th Street, 7th Fl
New York, NY 10003
212-844-1273

BUSINESS

Beth Israel Medical Center
317 East 17th Street, 7th Fl
New York, NY 10003

EDUCATION

1975 M.D.
New York University School of Medicine

1971 Ph.D
The Catholic University of America, Washington, DC

- Major Field: Endocrinology
- Minor Field: Microbiology

1967 M.S.
Howard University, Washington, D.C.
(Cell Biology)

1965 B.S.
Howard University, Washington D.C.

1975 - 1976 Straight Medical Intern-Harlem Hospital Center

1976 – 1978 Medical Resident-Harlem Hospital Center

HONORS

1971 – 1974 Honors Program, NYU School of Medicine

1971 Elected to Sigma XI Honor Society

1969 – 1971 National Science Foundation Trainee

ACTIVITIES

- Former President, Leadership Council American Diabetes Association, NYC
- Member, Leadership Council American Diabetes Association
- Former Member-American Diabetes Association, African American Project Team of the Program Committee
- Member-East Harlem Diabetes Center of Excellence
- Diabetes Education Faculty-Bristol Meyers Squibb
- Speaker, Glaxo-SmithKline
- Speaker, Novo Nordisk

EXPERIENCE

2008 – Present

Senior Attending, Department of Endocrinology
Beth Israel Medical Center

Medical Director, Friedman Diabetes Institute
Beth Israel Medical Center Outreach Program

1981 – 2008

Attending Physician

Cabrini Medical Center

Department of Endocrinology

Department of Medicine

Diabetes Treatment Unit

Faculty Practice Group-Teaching Attending

1990 – Present

Consultant – United Nations

1983 – 1986

Director-OutPatient Clinic

Cabrini Medical Center

SPECIAL INTEREST

Diabetes in Children

Diabetes complication

Diabetes prevention

Diabetes in Minorities

Diabetes in Woman

LICENSES

1976

New York License to Practice Medicine